MAN Study Sponsorship Scheme online

Following restructuring, the MAN Group's Study Sponsorship Scheme is now available online. Either via the "Careers" button on the www.man-group.com homepage or directly at www.man-studienfoerderung.de, young people about to start their studies can access information on the opportunities offered by the scheme and if they wish, submit an application. The MAN Study Sponsorship Scheme has developed from the activities of the former Paul Reusch Youth Foundation.

Geared to the mid-term personnel requirements of MAN companies, the MAN Study Sponsorship Scheme assists students with excellent school grades to undertake a course of full-time university study. In addition to financial support, tutors are available to advise sponsored students. A tutor's task is to provide counselling for the students in their main areas of study for the duration of the scholarship, as well as to establish contacts with the MAN Group. This intensive mentoring gradually prepares the sponsored students for future professional careers in the company. Furthermore, sponsored students are guaranteed a job within an MAN Group company, provided their performance is satisfactory.
